

Douala, 19th July 2018

Object: Request for Partnership

In line with the celebration of this year's Day of the African Woman, CANEM Consulting, in collaboration with Wilson Learning, is organising a one-day training on workplace productivity for women from all walks of life. The training will take place on July 31, at Hotel Futuris, Bonapriso, Douala, from 6 PM.

The workshop has as aim to impact the women with results-oriented versatility skills that will help them improve their ability to work effectively with others and create in them the innovative spirit.

Wilson Learning is a multiple-awards winning, global leader in leadership development, sales development, workforce development and performance improvement solutions. It is ranked amongst the top five leadership training companies in the world. As an industry leader, Wilson Learning guides organisations to success by inspiring, developing and transforming their greatest investment -- their personnel. The organization is known for providing solutions that drive results.

CANEM Consulting is a service-oriented consulting firm specialized in providing professional development and learning for professionals seeking to enhance their skills, advance in their careers and enrich their understanding of a rapidly changing business and public administration world by offering training solutions customized to meet their needs. At the end of this training, the women will:

- Be able to leverage social style differences in order to promote effective collaboration and create productive relationships at the workplace.
- Acquire better communication skills based on understanding their personal social styles and that of others.

- Be equipped with conflict management skills making them more focused and more productive at work.
- Have their ability to be innovative enhanced in a work-friendly environment.
- Develop firmly rooted leadership values, integrity and commitment.
- Understand what it means to lead and establish their leadership foundation.

We believe that your company is not just community-driven but sets out to establish good HR practices, investing in people. We therefore solicit your partnership for this training geared towards realising efficiency and productivity in our society. As a partner, you stand to benefit from the following:

- The free participation of the women from your company for the one-day training
- Placement of your company logo, trademark or other images on event gadget and brochures
- Display of company roll-up in conference hall
- Promotion of your company on our website, media contacts, and press releases
- Merchandising: make available the products or the services of your company to the audience of the event.

For more information in relation to participation, please contact:

Mrs. Arung Etah on 677 80 26 53 or Mrs. Simone E. Ebelle on 697 160 946

We thank you in advance for your support in making this program a tremendous success.